

THE WORLD IS NOT BIG ENOUGH TO STAND IN THESPIANS' WAY!

A globetrotting member of the cast and director have not prevented the Downham Stage Two Players from being on schedule for the opening of their latest production.

Director Muriel Hanson is spending two weeks in the United States, and one of the principals, Leslie Bradbury, has only recently returned after a three-month trip to South Africa.

The cast has kept up rehearsals in the absence of the director, with Fran Osborne deputising.

The play, which opens on April 30th in Downham Village Hall, is a farce called 'See How They Run', in which there are many more vicars on stage when the play finished than when it started.

Eddie Bootle and Tony Brazendale are also in the cast.

After its April 30th opening, the play continues on May 1st 2nd 3rd
