

Melvyn Morrow

About the writer.

Melvyn Morrow is an Australian playwright. He co-wrote Shout! The Legend of the Wild One and Dusty - The Original Pop Diva with John-Michael Howson and David Mitchell. Earlier in his life he wrote material for The Mavis Bramston Show. He is a graduate of St Aloysius' College. He taught English and Drama at Stonyhurst College. He also taught at St Ignatius' College, Riverview, where he taught author Gerard Windsor, playwright Nick Enright, and entertainer Andrew O'Keefe.

Melvyn's entertainment, Broadway Bard, a cabaret where Shakespeare meets showbiz, was first performed by the Bell Shakespeare Company in Australia, then proved to be Café Basilica's biggest box office hit when Warwick Allsopp starred in it for three seasons. It was the centrepiece of the 1998 Shakespeare By The River Festival at Stratford Victoria.

DIRECTORS' INTRODUCTIONS

In this gentle meander through some of the Bard's most famous scenes, Mel Morrow has cleverly paired Broadway songs with the drama.

The aim has been to celebrate the master of our literary heritage in a special way and to share it with you. So-

"If music be the food of love-play on"

Anne Grogan

"Though this be madness, yet there is method in 't"
 Shakespeare was never going to be easy! Characters known, unknown, loved, hated, feared - a plethora of challenging roles!
 Our aim has been to entertain you and present to you an exciting experience of music, drama, dance and songs in memory of this wonderful playwright, Shakespeare..... and of course, we hope... "All's well that ends well."

Fran Osborne
