

HERALD & POST SPOTLIGHT ON DRAMA AT DOWNHAM

□ Jean Oldroyd, who plays Lottie Grady, gives a short rendition on the piano.

□ Pat Hargreaves, portraying Mrs Northrop, and Brian Haworth, who plays Gerald Forbes in Alderman Helliwell's sitting room.

□ Watch the birdie! Roy Oldroyd clicks as Henry Ormonroyd in the play.

THE hilarious J. B. Priestley play, "When We Are Married" has been brought to the stage in Downham. Tonight sees the only performance of the popular farce by the Stage Two Downham theatre group in the village hall. The action packed comedy is a tale about a silver wedding anniversary which goes hysterically wrong when the couple realise they may not have been married for 25 years after all due to a blunder by the registrar!
